

Editorial Commentary

Firstly, many apologies for the missing Euronote in 2002 - no excuses just abject failure on my part! Anyway, this edition of Euronote is again a mix of articles, a bit of humour [actually more than just a bit!], some information and several contributions to cover a variety of choral related things including some quizzzy-type things! As we move from the summer of 2003 [a warm one by any measure] and following the end of a period of contemplation during the later weeks of Trinity and moving through Advent to prepare for the coming of Our Lord at Christmas-tide, now is the chance to sit, relax and read about some of the things that have been happening in NW Europe over the past year or so; and at a push [ie don't let the vicar see you reading this] during a suitable sermon, chuckle at a little humour or try your hand at the seasonal crossword, One might say that this edition of Euronote is not really that much different from previous ones except that the articles are not quite the same and the humour has changed [ie not the same jokes as before!]; however, the contributions are largely from the same sources! Where are those budding journalists amongst you? Get out those pencils and start writing. As I said last time, "We want you to share what you do in your church or choral community with the rest of us; it matters not how large or small the piece is!"

The next edition of EURONOTE will be expected in the Spring of 2004; probably around March/April time. If you have any articles or other snippet, that you would like to have included [or anything you'd like to discuss - like a 'readers write' section], please aim to have them with me by the end of February or early March at the latest.

And before I let you read away, may we wish you all a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

Trevor Day Fax: +44 1793 547 980
Editor Mobile: +44 773 908 8213
Post: 23 Melfort Close, SWINDON Wilts SN5 5FG, England

Ps: Back-copies of Euronote are available for perusal on our RSCM website [see below] or on request [exceptionally printed on paper and sent by mail]

Contact List:

Dir.Gen RSCM	John Harper	email via RSCM office
RSCM Dir Policy & Meetings	Gordon Appleton	email via RSCM office
Co-ordinator for NW Europe	Martin van Bleek	martin.van.bleek@planet.nl
Secretariat for NW Europe	Graham Look	Graham.Look@pandora.be
Editor Euronote	Trevor Day	Trevor.Day@bt.com
Our Website:		WWW.RSCM-NW-Europe.Net
RSCM Website:		WWW.RSCM.Com
ECS planning/organisation	Edward Seymour	eseymour@pt.lu

A Prayer

Found on a scrap of paper in the pocket of a cassock being sent off for cleaning!

Jesus, in you I find rest and peace.
I can talk to you about anything -
 my worries and my fears,
 my happiness and sadness,
 my anger and disappointment.
You always listen and you always understand.